Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 14, there is a lack of antecedent basis for the means for selectively opening and closing the essence line. It appears that the claim should depend from claim 15.

2. Please make the terminology consistent throughout the claims. For example, the flavor line in claim 1 is later called the essence line.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 5 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Benausutti et al.

Benasutti et al. shows a Venturi valve/nozzle 162; water line 160; flavor line 182 having an essence inlet port; entry port 169; first chamber in 162; second chamber 171; diffuser 168; exit port 222; and the configuration is "capable" of interfacing with an existing valve base. The diverted percentage is carried out by structure 240 and discussed in column 7, lines 1-8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 2, 3, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Benasutti et al. in view of Meinert.

Benasutti et al. has been discussed above, but lacks the various valves. Meinert shows a needle control valve 38 and solenoid valve 40 for controlling the material through the essence line. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the valves as taught by Meinert on the device of Benasutti et al. in order to allow for better control of the essence in order to make the correct mixture for the beverage and also allow for an unflavored mixture.

8. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Benasutti et al. in view of Jones.

Benasutti et al. has been discussed above, but lacks the non-return valve. Jones teaches a non-return valve in paragraph 34, lines 10-13. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the non-return valve as taught by Jones on the device of Benasutti et al. in order to "prevent backflow and cross contamination".

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 6-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

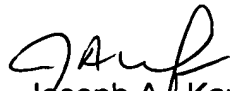

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Uttech, Freese, Giuliano, Friedman, and Davis show other beverage mixing devices.
